

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON THE HISTORY OF THE SOUTH PACIFIC

The International Conference on the History of the South Pacific, which was held in Auckland, New Zealand, in 1974, was the first of a series of conferences organized by the International Council for the History of the Pacific Region. The conference was held in Auckland, New Zealand, in 1974, and was the first of a series of conferences organized by the International Council for the History of the Pacific Region.

The conference was held in Auckland, New Zealand, in 1974, and was the first of a series of conferences organized by the International Council for the History of the Pacific Region. The conference was held in Auckland, New Zealand, in 1974, and was the first of a series of conferences organized by the International Council for the History of the Pacific Region.

The conference was held in Auckland, New Zealand, in 1974, and was the first of a series of conferences organized by the International Council for the History of the Pacific Region. The conference was held in Auckland, New Zealand, in 1974, and was the first of a series of conferences organized by the International Council for the History of the Pacific Region.

The conference was held in Auckland, New Zealand, in 1974, and was the first of a series of conferences organized by the International Council for the History of the Pacific Region. The conference was held in Auckland, New Zealand, in 1974, and was the first of a series of conferences organized by the International Council for the History of the Pacific Region.

The conference was held in Auckland, New Zealand, in 1974, and was the first of a series of conferences organized by the International Council for the History of the Pacific Region. The conference was held in Auckland, New Zealand, in 1974, and was the first of a series of conferences organized by the International Council for the History of the Pacific Region.

The conference was held in Auckland, New Zealand, in 1974, and was the first of a series of conferences organized by the International Council for the History of the Pacific Region. The conference was held in Auckland, New Zealand, in 1974, and was the first of a series of conferences organized by the International Council for the History of the Pacific Region.