

A horizontal row of eleven empty rectangular boxes. The first ten boxes are evenly spaced and aligned horizontally. The eleventh box is positioned slightly to the right of the tenth box, with a vertical line drawn through its center, creating a visual cue for a decimal point.