

A horizontal row of 20 empty rectangular boxes, divided into four equal segments by vertical lines. Each segment contains five boxes. The boxes are white with black outlines.

A horizontal sequence of 24 empty rectangular boxes arranged in four rows of six. This visual element likely serves as a placeholder for text or data that has not been populated.