

The diagram illustrates the construction of a Huffman tree from 10 characters. The characters are initially represented as individual boxes. These are then grouped into pairs, and these pairs are further grouped into larger structures, eventually forming a single root node. The final structure is a complete Huffman tree with a root node and two main branches.

[illegible][illegible]